

Small and Medium Size Businesses and Retailers Save Time and Money on Exemption Certificates with the TEAMS Express UltraLite Series

ISSI announces the release of the TEAMS Express UltraLite Series of sales and use tax exemption management software at the IPT (Institute for Professionals in Taxation) 33rd Annual Conference in San Francisco. This new software extends sales and use tax exemption certificate compliance down to the smallest shops and businesses—even where there is no Internet connectivity. Now smaller businesses and retailers can enjoy the highest levels of exemption certificate compliance and reduced risk from their desktop or laptop at a total lower cost.

Hudson, Ohio (PRWEB) July 20, 2009 – For less than $1,000, any business can enjoy the immediate savings, the peace of mind and the protection that comes from the proper governance of sales and use tax exemption certificates. The TEAMS Express UltraLite Series for sales and use tax exemption certificate management is available for purchase on the web at TEAMS Express UltraLite Series and comes in three versions for small and medium size businesses and retailers. “This release follows the trail we blazed two years ago when we first delivered TEAMS Express to the SMB space. As the first vendor to seriously enter the small to medium business space with a credible exemption certificate management (ECM) solution we are extending the value and utility of ECM for just about every business no matter how small,” says Phil Hodge, Founder and CEO of ISSI.

Built on the same foundation as TEAMS Express, the UltraLite Series provides key services that help small businesses and retailers create, track and store exemption certificates for all of their exempt customers. Plug-in LineLink™ and you have an industry unique solution that optimizes the exemption process from collection through audit at your fingertips. The UltraLite Series runs on any desktop or laptop PC and is completely self-contained. Training and documentation is available online along with email support.

TE UltraLite Basic

TE UltraLite Basic provides simple and easy to use capture, store and organization functionality for both sales and use tax exemption certificates. Up to a 750 certificates can be scanned, indexed and managed.

TE UltraLite Plus

TE UltraLite Plus manages up to 1,000 certificates and includes an exemption certificate forms library that will help customers’ select and complete the correct certificate on demand—ready for their signature. The built-in forms wizard ensures that the right certificate is found and properly filled out by asking just a few questions, usually less than four.

TE UltraLite Retail

TE UltraLite Retail manages up to 2,500 certificates. Built specifically for the retailer, it adds the following functions specific to the retail store environment. Signatures may be captured at the point of purchase with virtually any signature capture device on hand. Store and forward of captured certificates to a central location is particularly useful in chain store environments without the luxury of Internet access at the POS. As an added bonus, TE UltraLite Retail also includes a copy of LineLink that completes a unique, end-to-end solution that handles certificate collection, management and audit defense quickly and completely.

The TE UltraLite Series is available for online purchase and download with a credit card beginning August 31, 2009 at <http://www.issimage.com/TE-UltraLite-Series/>.

The TE UltraLite Series is easily upgraded into full-blown TEAMS Express on Demand (SaaS) or TEAMS Express on Premise quickly and easily.
